

Answer 1:

Water changes into gas from lakes and rivers, makes clouds, and falls back as rain. It's a repeated cycle.

Answer 2:

Green plants use sunlight to make food. They take in carbon dioxide and water to do this.